

WELCOME to the Köhlerei am See

We have chosen the name "Köhlerei" (charcoal burning) because of the coal forest which starts directly behind our house. In former times, coal was produced there by the so-called charcoal burners in coal kilns.

Chef Frank Beckert and his team create delicious dishes with a great deal of love. Whether you are a meat lover, vegetarian or simply hungry - everyone will find what they are looking for here. We put great value on fresh ingredients and a varied selection so that every one of our guests leaves the table satisfied and full. In addition, we use regional and seasonal ingredients, because for us, it goes on the plate when it grows in the region. We are a Nature Park host by heart!

All dishes marked with this sign are made from products from the nature park black forest

Delicious food, recipe inspiration and news from the Köhlerei am See - Follow us on Facebook and Instagram and share your Köhlerei moment with the world, with us and your friends and family at home.
