Dear four-legged friend,

a warm welcome to you.
For your exemplary appearance, here are your personal four-legged house rules, which you may quietly bark to your owner:

1. Please keep me on a leash in the house, that makes an impression!
2. You can take me almost anywhere. When you're in the wellness area, I'm off the leash - I prefer to stay in my room. In the restaurant I stay on the floor and don't want to sit on the bench, the chair or on your lap.
3. I'm very happy when I arrive with friends - but please no more than two per room, otherwise it gets too crowded for me.
4. Please always remind me not to disturb your fellow dogs with my joyful barking - in case I forget.
5. Please also remind me to keep all four paws on the floor and not jump on the cozy upholstery, beds, etc. (If rooms/apartments/furniture are heavily soiled by dog hair, we reserve the right to send you an invoice for cleaning costs).
6. I have my own beautiful dog harness and I love to eat & drink from it.
7. I would like to get to know the Upper Black Forest and the area around the hotel. On the homepage of Hochschwarzwald Tourismus GmbH (www.hochschwarzwald.de) you will find tour suggestions recommended by local dog lovers.
8. I prefer to do my business outside on a meadow - not on the balcony.
9. If I am alone in the room, please hang the door hanger on the door so that your fellow dogs know.
10. In guest rooms with wooden floors, my owner is welcome to ask at reception or housekeeping for an extra mat to put under the bowls.
11. Oh yes, before I forget: if I ever come home soaking wet, please dry me off with my own towel - because that has my scent mark.

What's more, your two-legged companion can look forward to some exclusive pampering for you at the Wildpfoten dog grooming salon, which is located right here on the Köhlerei premises. Your owners will receive a 10 per cent discount on dog grooming, as well as a free paw care treatment for you. And, of course, as a little reward, you'll get a small treat straight after your treatment.

My owner agree to the four-legged friend house rules (part of the accommodation contract).
